PROJECT TIMELINE

Project consultancy is offered to evaluate the specific needs of each client, ensuring that all products and services are tailored to meet the unique requirements of every project.

During these sessions, Aqualoo's specifications team members will discuss product options, customisation possibilities, and offer recommendations tailored to client specifications and industry requirements. This approach helps optimize design and functionality while adhering to industry standards.

After the initial consultations, Aqualoo follows up to ensure that all client questions are addressed and that the proposed solutions align with the project scope. This step fosters open dialogue and provides additional information on products and timelines.

Installation services ensure the smooth integration of products into the client's environment, guaranteeing safety, efficiency, and compliance with regulatory standards for peace of mind.

LAMINEX PRODUCT INTEGRATION

Integrating Laminex products into our offerings allows us to provide stylish and functional surfaces for various commercial applications. This partnership expands our design possibilities, delivering high-quality solutions that meet diverse client needs across projects.

COLLABORATION WITH METLAM

Our collaboration with Metlam Washroom Accessories enhances our product offerings, providing a wide selection of accessories that complement our primary products. This partnership ensures clients receive well-rounded solutions, blending practicality with style in washroom design.

West Coast Commercial Industries offers personalised services, including consultancy, customisation, and installation, providing comprehensive solutions for commercial washrooms.
